THE RECTOR WRITES...

29th June, 1993

Mission '93 September 19th-26th

The committee appointed to plan the arrangements for this important event in the life of our Church have met the Revd. Tony Porter and some of his team from Holy Trinity Church, Platt in South Manchester who will be joining us for this week of mission at the beginning of the autumn. At the present time it looks as though about two dozen people will be coming and they will include a number of university students from their large evening congregation. As they will not be commuting but living within our parish during the period of the mission we are now looking for offers of accommodation for bed and breakfast and/or a late afternoon tea/early evening meal.

In addition to the Sunday services which the team will be conducting the main events during the week will be :-

1. Home Meetings throughout the parish from Monday to Wednesday in the afternoon and evening. These will give us an opportunity to meet the missionaries informally in small groups and for these we will be looking for lots of volunteers to act as hosts/hostesses.

2. A Ladies Evening with a meal on the Thursday evening.

3. A Men's Dinner on the Friday evening.

It is my desire and hope that everyone who regard themselves as members of Deane Church will endeavour to go to at least one of the home meetings in the first half of the week and then to either the Ladies Evening or the Men's Dinner. Since the missionaries are voluntarily giving up a whole week of their time to come to us I don't think it is at all unreasonable for me to ask you to set aside two occasions during the mission week so please make a note of them in your diary now.

Some members of the team will be going into the Deane School to speak at their morning assemblies each day and this will lead into a Youth Event on the Saturday evening.

At the bottom of this page there is a reply slip for you to offer accommodation of one kind or another during the mission week. Do please complete it and return it as soon as possible.

If you are going away for the Bolton Holidays, I wish you well.

Roger B. Jackson.

IN THE NEWS

THANKSGIVING On Sunday 13th June the following parents brought their children to Church in thanksgiving for their birth:

Carol and Tina Farrow, 119 Deane Church Lane for Samantha Jade

Stewart and Sharon Middleton, 11 Wardlow Street, for Christopher Matthew

Mark and Susan Slater, 6 Braeside Grove for Carl Alexander

Owing to Bolton Holidays the Climbers and Explorers will not meet for their separate programmes on Sundays July 4th and 11th. For those who are not going away, they will be most welcome with their parents at the morning service in Church on those two Sundays. The two groups re-assemble on Sunday July 18th, but will be in Church again for the Family/Parade Service on July 25th.

The Ladies Guild meet only once this month - on July 20th when Miss Pilling will introduce them to the mysteries of the Nursing Theatre.

The Mother's Union meet on Wednesday afternoons July 14th and 28th at 2.00pm.

"Deane Scouts"

This year is the eightieth anniversary of the foundation of the 1st Deane Scout Group, the first scouts being enrolled in 1913. Members of that first troop spent the war years guarding the railway bridge at the bottom of the Clough outside of school hours, the late Teddy Platt, the village wheelwright, being one of them.

For over a third of that time, since the end of the Second World War, I was the Scout Leader, until, near my sixtieth birthday, I finally relinquished my warrant.

There being a very efficient team to carry on, I was determined to keep away, so as not to interfere, but it has saddened me in that for the past three years, the Scout Troup has been non-existent, because of a lack of adult leadership.

Cub Scouts and the newer younger section of Beavers are strong in numbers and leadership, but up to now there has been no future for them in Scouting as far as St. Mary's Deane is concerned.

Please - someone come forward to take on this very worthwhile job, two or three if possible. I am well over age myself to be accepted for a warrant now, but I will be very willing to give assistance with advice and instruction, until potential scouts have received training for self sufficiency. Of course, there may be ex-scouters among our congregation willing to come forward, which would make things easier.

I pray that there will be a response.

Rowland Goodwin, the Industrial Missioner.

"Coal and Christians"

For a few days after the announcement that 31 pits were to be shut, 10 of them forthwith, the whole nation seemed to think economics. The social effect of pit closures was deeply felt by Christians in and outside mining areas. Marches attracted widespread support. The Government back-tracked and announced a review.

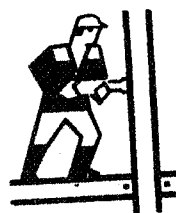

Development teams have been tunnelling towards huge thick seams under the North Sea at our son-in-law's pit in Sunderland. Wearmouth Colliery is one of the 31. Investment is now at risk. Thousands of jobs could go in an area of high unemployment and low job prospects. Real people, with wives and families to support, will become yet more numbers in the benefit statistics.

Naturally, we are deeply concerned. What would help most is not Christian compassion or solidarity with victims. We take that as read. Miners, and all those who rely on the coal industry, need a market. The issues are economic as well as human. Christians who concentrate on one without the other are failing in their citizenship.

It seems crazy to stagger on without a long-term energy policy, shipping in cheap coal from abroad, ignoring our own natural resources and building an electric power supply on the uncertain future of gas. Christians must speak up in the search for a more socially acceptable alternative. The future cannot be left solely in the hands of the money-makers.

CHRISTIAN AID WEEK

This year's collection, despite early fears to the contrary, is upon the 1992 house-to-house collections from £1662 to £1672. Again The Deane School have added to this sum a further excellent contribution of £120, giving a total of £1792.

Evidence of a return to overseas travel was indicated by some increase in foreign coins. In other cases excavation must have been undertaken to find 6 old pennies, 3 old half pennies and four half new pence. However, the contributor of 16 washers was taking things a little wide of the mark!

Once again thanks are due to many people - to Roger for his wholehearted support and encouragement; to the support team who help with preparation, distribution and counting; to the many collectors for their courage and time; to The Deane School for their efforts and finally to all who contributed to this year's wonderful total and helping to fulfil the theme

WE BELIEVE IN LIFE BEFORE DEATH

P.S. The washers have enabled an appliance at a local school for handicapped children, to be repaired.
